

Hate Crimes

307.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Message from the Sheriff:

Hate Crimes convey a message of terror and exclusion, not just to the immediate victims but to entire communities. They often target victims who are least able to defend themselves. They cause trauma that is more extreme and longer lasting than similar crimes committed for other motivations. They can spark retaliatory crimes, escalating the cycle of crime and violence. If not addressed professionally and thoroughly, they may undermine public confidence in law enforcement.

Crimes motivated by hate are not simply assaults, property damage, or violations of civil rights. They are crimes that specifically target individuals with particular characteristics. As such, they provide fuel for the prejudices and fears that underline these crimes; thus, continuing the cycle of hatred, prejudice, and bias. Enforcement of hate crime laws are important because they send a clear message to would-be perpetrators that hate crimes do not just affect the intended victim and that law enforcement, and the communities that we serve, will not tolerate these types of crimes. The broad impact of hate crimes makes them a major concern for all law enforcement agencies.

The Orange County Sheriff's Department Vision Statement reflects, "A community where every person feels safe and valued." It is essential that our Department address hate crimes in a manner that most effectively accomplishes prevention and rapid apprehension of perpetrators.

This policy is designed to assist in identifying and handling crimes motivated by hate or other bias toward individuals and groups with legally defined protected characteristics, to define appropriate steps for assisting victims, and to provide a guide to conducting related investigations. It outlines the general policy framework for prevention, response, accessing assistance, victim assistance and follow-up, and reporting as related to law enforcement's role in handling hate crimes. It also serves as a declaration that hate crimes are taken seriously and demonstrates how the Department may best use its resources to investigate and solve an offense, in addition to building community trust and increasing police legitimacy (Penal Code § 13519.6; Penal Code § 422.87).

307.1.1 DEFINITIONS AND LAWS

In accordance with Penal Code § 422.55, Penal Code § 422.56, Penal Code § 422.6, and Penal Code § 422.87, for purposes of all other state laws, unless an explicit provision of law or the context clearly requires a different meaning, the following shall apply:

Bias motivation - is a pre-existing negative attitude toward actual or perceived characteristics referenced in Penal Code § 422.55. Depending on the circumstances of each case, bias motivation may include, but is not limited to, hatred, animosity, discriminatory selection of victims, resentment, revulsion, contempt, unreasonable fear, paranoia, callousness, thrill-seeking, desire for social dominance, desire for social bonding with those of one's "own kind," or a perception of the vulnerability of the victim due to the victim being perceived as being weak, worthless, or fair game because of a protected characteristic, including but not limited to, disability or gender.

Hate Crimes

Disability - includes mental disability and physical disability as defined in Government Code § 12926, regardless of whether those disabilities are temporary, permanent, congenital, or acquired by heredity, accident, injury, advanced age, or illness.

Disability bias – is a preexisting negative attitude towards persons with perceived or actual disabilities. In recognizing suspected disability bias hate crimes, consider whether there is any indication that the perpetrator:

- Was motivated by hostility or other bias, occasioned by factors such as, but not limited to, dislike of persons who arouse fear or guilt, a perception that persons with disabilities are inferior and therefore "deserving victims," a fear of persons whose visible traits are perceived as being disturbing to others, or resentment of those who need, demand, or receive alternative educational, physical, or social accommodations; and/or
- Perceived the victim to be vulnerable and, if so, if this perception is grounded, in whole or in part, in disability bias. This includes, but is not limited to, situations where a perpetrator targets a person with a particular perceived disability while avoiding other vulnerable-appearing persons, such as inebriated persons or persons with perceived disabilities different from those of the victim. Such circumstances could be evidence that the perpetrator's motivations included bias against persons with the perceived disability of the victim and that the crime must be reported as a suspected hate crime and not a mere crime of opportunity.

Gender - means sex and includes a person's gender identity and gender expression.

Gender expression -means a person's gender-related appearance and behavior, regardless of whether it is stereotypically associated with the person's assigned sex at birth.

Gender identity - is a person's sense of being male, female, some combination of male or female, or neither male nor female. (15 CCR § 1006.)

Hate crime - Hate crime includes, but is not limited to, a violation of Penal Code § 422.6, and means a criminal act committed, in whole or in part, because of one or more of the following actual or perceived characteristics of the victim:

1. Disability
2. Gender
3. Nationality
4. Race or ethnicity
5. Religion
6. Sexual Orientation
7. Association with a person or group with one or more of these actual or perceived characteristics:

"Association with a person or group with one or more of these actual or perceived characteristics" includes advocacy for, identification with, or being on the premises owned or rented by, or adjacent to, any of the following: a community center, educational facility, family, individual, office, meeting hall, place of worship, private institution, public agency, library, or other entity, group, or person that has, or is identified with people who have, one or more of the characteristics listed in the definition of "hate crime" under paragraphs 1 to 6, inclusive, of Penal Code § 422.55(a).

Note: A hate crime need not be motivated by hate but may be motivated by any bias against a protected characteristic.

Hate incident - Per the California Attorney General, a hate incident is an action or behavior motivated by hate or bias but which, for one or more reasons, is not a crime. Examples of hate incidents include:

- Name-calling
- Insults and epithets
- Displaying hate material on your own property
- Posting hate material that does not result in property damage
- Distribution of materials with hate messages in public places

Hate speech - The U.S. Constitution allows hate speech as long as it does not interfere with the civil rights of others. While these acts are certainly disagreeable, offensive or hurtful, they do not rise to the level of criminal violations and thus may not be prosecuted. However, these incidents have a traumatic impact on the victims as well as on the community at large:

- Fighting words
- True threats
- Perjury
- Blackmail
- Incitement to lawless action
- Conspiracy
- Solicitation to commit any crime

In whole or in part because of - means that the bias motivation must be a cause in fact of the offense, whether or not other causes also exist. When multiple concurrent motives exist, the prohibited bias must be a substantial factor in bringing about the particular result. There is no requirement that the bias be a main factor, or that a crime would not have been committed but for the actual or perceived characteristic.

Nationality - means country of origin, immigration status, including citizenship, and national origin.

Race or ethnicity - includes ancestry, color, and ethnic background.

Religion - includes all aspects of religious belief, observance, and practice and includes agnosticism and atheism.

Hate Crimes

Religion bias - A negative attitude towards persons based upon their perceived or actual religious beliefs, lack of beliefs, membership, or lack of membership in a faith group. In recognizing suspected religion-bias hate crimes, consider whether there were targeted attacks on, or biased references to, symbols of importance to a particular religion or articles considered of spiritual significance in a particular religion.

or association with a person or group with one or more of these actual or perceived characteristics. Any acts or threats of violence, property damage, harassment, intimidation, or other crimes motivated by hate or bias should be viewed very seriously and given high priority.

This Department will employ reasonably available resources and vigorous law enforcement action to identify and arrest hate crime perpetrators. Also, recognizing the particular fears and distress typically suffered by victims, the potential for reprisal and escalation of violence, and the far-reaching negative consequences of these crimes on the community, this Department should take all reasonable steps to attend to the security and related concerns of the immediate victims and their families as feasible.

All Department Members are required to be familiar with the policy and use reasonable diligence to carry out the policy unless directed by the Sheriff or designee to whom the Sheriff formally delegates this responsibility.

307.3 PREVENTION AND PREPARATION

In order to facilitate the guidelines contained within this policy, Department Members will continuously work to build and strengthen relationships with the community, engage in dialogue, and provide education to the community about this policy. Department Members are also encouraged to learn about the inherent issues concerning their communities in relation to hate crimes.

Although hate incidents are not criminal events, they can be indicators of, or precursors to, hate crimes, and should be documented for informational purposes.

Hate crimes are not only a crime against the targeted victim(s) but also have impacts on the victim's family and community. Working constructively with segments of this larger community, after such crimes helps to reduce fears, stem possible retaliation, prevent additional hate crimes, and encourage any other previously victimized individuals to step forward and report such crimes.
